

Michael Alle Manufacturers is devoted to the high-quality crafting of leather jackets with more than 35 years of experience.

Leather jackets manufacturing requires deep knowledge and real expert masters as each jacket has a unique identity and the signature of the handmade process. There is no other way of making a great jacket!

Michael Alle Manufacturers has managed to combine the centuries-old experience of most skilled workforce in Mexico with a fast process and production flow.

We are located in the city of Leon, right in the heart of Mexico and one of the best leather clusters in the world, that has allowed us to build a robust, strong, and efficient supply chain.

With a monthly production capacity of 6,000 pieces. Michael Alle is the leading jacket manufacturing company in business founded in 1987.

More than 70% of our production is proudly exported to countries such as United States, Canada, England, Ireland, Scotland, Japan, Germany, Switzerland, Australia among other destinations.
